VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 12, 1867. NO. 260.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

TENNESSEE.

The state of things in Tennessee is terrible. There the device for salutary reconstruction, so favored in certain quarters, has been tried. The government of the State has been confided to the hand of the so-called "loyal"—and instead of peace and good order, the State groans with bloodshed and anarchy. Brownlow has put arms in the hands of some of his worst desperadoes, and bid them take life by authority, and at pleasure. We take the following from the Nashville Banner of the 2d. instant.—Richmond Enquirer.

MURDER BY AUTHORITY.

The Press and Times, (Brownlow Radical,) has endorsed the murder of a peaceable citizen of Franklin county by an outlaw of the name of Rickman who holds a commission from Governor Brownlow to levy war and terror upon the people. Nor does it stop here. It advises a continuance of the bloody work and the atrocious system by which it is to be made general and indiscriminate. We reprint its own words. Let those who read decide upon the character of the following comment upon the shameless confession of the murderer:

"The report of Captain Rickman puts the affair in a wholly different light from that in which it has been paraded in the Banner. The Banner of yesterday publishes the proceedings of a public meeting during the killing of Brown, and also a very inflammatory speech from A. S. Colyar, who threatened rebellion and armed resistance against the State authorities, unless prompt redress was given. Such language and threats are absurd and mischievous in the extreme.—Gov. Brownlow knows his duty, and will fearlessly perform it. The time for any county in the State to harbor men whose hands are red with the blood of loyal men has past, and inflammatory resolutions and seditious threats will not cause the resolute officers who are at the head of the State government to swerve a hair's breadth from the line of duty."

If, in place of the foregoing, the Press and Times had written—"WE IN THE NAME OF THE COMMANDER-IN CHIEF INSTRUCT YOU TO SHOOT DOWN WHOMSOEVER YOU DESIRE TO SHOOT," its language could not be more impressive or its influence more direct.

The persons composing "the command" of Rickman are ignorant. Like Rickman himself, they are reckless and vicious.—Made up of the refuse material of the war—of deserters and desperadoes from both of the late contending armies—they are incapable of forming a discriminate judgment. They got into the habit of killing men and seeing men killed, during the war, and with them it is war-time still. If it is not, they may very naturally inquire why they are enlisted, armed and equipped; why they are ordered on "detached service;" why they have a "commander-in-chief, et cetera." With them, as in actual war, every adversary is an enemy and every enemy is to be made way with by powder and ball. They are for Brownlow, and all who are against Brownlow are enemies. If further excuse is needed, it is easy to apply the terms "disloyal" and "bushwhacker" to every active Conservative in the State, for such is the teaching of the Press and Times, and to shoot him down on sight. When they have done the shooting, they know they will be applauded by the only paper they are permitted to read, and may even hope for "promotion" from the only master recognized by them; and if the people, who are made the victims of this system of authorized assassination, meet in a peaceful manner, as the people of Winchester met, and if such temperate speeches as that of Mr. Colyar are made, the measure of self-defence and the appeal for protection are to be denounced by the organ and oracle of the offenders as "seditious" and "inflammatory." To this complexion have a great commonwealth and a peaceful body of citizens come at last, in the middle of the nineteenth century and the heart of the American Republic.

We have made a full and responsible statement. We have given the proceedings of a County mass-meeting with the names of fifty well-known citizens appended to its call for protection. We have shown that Brown was murdered; that Symmons was shot at; that Byrom only saved his life by begging like a dog, and that an entire community has been driven to the last recourse of peaceful men, that of earnest and pressing entreaty for protection. This protection is denied them by the State Government. There is no law in Tennessee but the passion and caprice of Governor Brownlow and his followers. The people have borne and forborne until they stand on the brink of destruction. In the example before us they have met in a lawful manner, have set forth their grievances, and have asked the Federal Government to send them Federal troops. They have shown that one of their number has been killed, that two have narrowly escaped the same late, and that all are threatened. They have stated that men are flying to the woods and that crops have been abandoned. They have been counseled under the exasperating circumstances with wondrous temperance by a leading citizen, and have declared, not until every appeal has proved unavailing, will they resort to the primal law of nature, that of self preservation. And they have been denounced as "rebels" by the organ of the ruling power, which cries on the assassins at the same time that it defends and approves the crimes already committed.

We add our entreaty to that of these suffering people. We call upon the Federal Government to send them Federal troops to protect them. And we ask of General Grant, as General-in-Chief of the National arms, to come here and supersede the self constituted "Commander-in-Chief" of a lawless army of ruffians, mustering in every part of the State to burn, to kill, to pillage, to insult, to bully, and thus to force the people to be the slaves and to do the will of one man, and be a lunatic bent upon the dissolution of society.

Judge W. D. Kelley was serenaded at his home in Philadelphia last night by his political friends. In responding to the compliment Judge Kelley took occasion to refer to his late experience at Mobile, and said the riots were not chargeable as much to the citizens, or the disloyal authorities of that place, as they were to Andrew Johnson, who appointed to a post of profit there a recreant Northerner, who provoked the disturbance by inflammatory statements in the public journals days before his arrival. The riots, he said, were premeditated, and were not brought on by any words of his own.—Washington Correspondence, N. Y. Herald, 9th.

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, calastrophes, crossers in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the maleic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, } SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 12, 1867.

WE CANNOT DOUBT that our people, who are now so deeply bewildered and distressed, and so much at the mercy of arbitrary decisions, will, ere long, be authoritatively relieved by an exposition and order giving them the benefits allowed by the law, and restraining the military rule within appropriate bounds. Morever, what is done should be done quickly, in view of the approaching registration, since it takes a long time, in the present state of mail facilities at the South, for all the people to become acquainted with laws affecting their rights and interests.

We publish, in another column, an article from the New York Tribune, animadverting severely upon the course of some of the District Commanders. The press of the South are debarred from such criticisms. Their position, in this respect, is one of extraordinary delicacy and responsibility. Any protest that they might make against the edicts of their military rulers would be construed into captiousness or contumacy, and perhaps the very first to impute such a spirit would be those very presses and persons who claim for themselves the privilege of denouncing the stretches of power which are exercised. However that may be, it is a matter of congratulation that the Radicals, and especially the Southern Radicals, are being made to realize the consequences which were predicted as the inevitable results of the military bill and the legislation of Congress.

The act of Gen. Sheridan, in removing the Governor of Louisiana, is certainly an arbitrary one, and one which, for the sake of the usurpation and the precedent, we hope to see condemned in the most emphatic manner; but, while such is the case, we have to say that there never was a victim of tyranny, who less deserved sympathy, than the man whose head has just fallen by the blow of the axe he helped to grind for others.

There is every reason to hope that this will not be the only case, in the progress of events, in which the engineer will be "hoist with his own petard," though in a different manner. If all those of our people, who can do so, will promptly register, we can prevent those in our midst, who have invited the present condition of things, from grasping the power which it was the object of their bad efforts to obtain,—and which, if obtained, they would wield with a recklessness, a venom and a fiendishness that are best illustrated at present in Tennessee, but which have no greater parallel in history.

A celebrated Cardinal of the time of Louis XI, of France, perished in the iron cage his ingenuity had invented for the gratification of his vengeance upon his enemies!

Mr. H. H. Helper and Rev. G. W. Brodie, of this State, have been appointed by Gen. Sickles members of a Board in Charleston to devise rules and regulations for conducting the registration of voters and the elections in this State. The Board is now in session.—Standard.

Mr. Helper, mentioned above, is a native of the State, and has for some time been the U. S. Assessor in the 6th. Congressional District. His knowledge of the people of the State and our usual modes of election is, we presume, sufficient to make him a fit person to be a member of the Board now sitting in Charleston. The appointment, however, of Mr. Jefferson Fisher, and, upon his declining, that of Rev. G. W. Brodie, pastor of the African Methodist Church in this city, seem to strike every one with surprise. We take it that the duties which Gen. Sickles imposes upon that Board require the highest intelligence and a most thorough acquaintance with the State.—Indeed, it seems to us that a gentleman, who has at some time been officially connected with civil office in the State, and the oldest Bureau man in the State, would alone have been qualified for the position. Rev. G. W. Brodie is a Northern negro, a minister in the African (Bethel) M. E. Church, and has not been in the State more than two years. His knowledge of the State and its people is necessarily limited and his other duties, if properly attended to, necessarily lead him in a different direction from political matters. Besides, we presume there are one hundred native colored men in the State, who are much better qualified than Brodie is for such a position. We can see no justifiable reason why our native colored people are to be ignored in this way, and Northern negroes always preferred. If our colored people are to enjoy office and position, let it be upon their merits. Our people will prefer them, ten times over, to Northern colored men, whose families reside beyond the Potomac, and who are not fully identified with our people. Our own native colored men should look to this.

COURTING.—Our friend of the Wilmington Dispatch thinks the constant courting of the colored people, by "rival parties" of white men, is having the effect of making the colored folks think too highly of themselves. Well, that's natural. The Northern Radicals and the Southern Radicals seem to be courting them. If others are, we are not aware of it. We should not be surprised if one or the other, or both, the Radicals and the blacks, are disappointed.

MERITED COMPLIMENT.—The Charlotte Democrat, speaking of Gov. Swain's recent oration in this city, says:

"We honor Gov. Swain as a true North Carolinian, who has done more to preserve the history of the State than any other man."

JUDGE KELLY.

This gentleman, while in Congress last winter, was not very complimentary to North Carolina, as we have heretofore shown. On more than one occasion, he slandered the good people of this State, which called forth, at different times, severe rebuke. Since his Southern trip, he seems to have changed his tune, and now his praises of North Carolina are fulsome, extravagant and ridiculous.

He was recently serenaded at his home in Philadelphia, and made a speech. We have seen only casual and short notices of it.—We extract from the papers the following:

"Judge Kelly said he was received courteously and kindly in every Southern city, save one. Speaking of North Carolina, he said it was the most beautiful and richest portion of earth upon which his eye or feet had ever rested. This State, from which more than fifty thousand of her sons have fled to Indiana and Illinois, is the land of wine, of honey, of the apple and the peach, of the fig and the pomegranate, all of which he saw prosper in the open field, and under the most artless culture. In the forty-two hundred miles he travelled the whole earth is underlaid with gold, so that a child, with an ordinary wash basin, could wash the sands from the rivulets and make at least three dollars a day, and yet he had never seen so much poverty as he found in North Carolina. "You can hardly credit this," "but," said he, "I tell you it is true."

Judge Kelly passed through a beautiful portion of our State, but he did not see the best lands of the State by one-half. Not more than 3,000 of our people "have fled" to Indiana and Illinois, since the war, and many of them are flying back. Before the war, thousands of the Friends left us and went to those States. Our State is truly a land of milk and honey, and fruits, as it is a land of corn, and wheat, and cotton, and tobacco, and, upon the whole, more desirable as to its climate and natural resources than any State in the Union. Its mineral wealth and its water power are magnificent, but the earth is not underlaid with gold, nor can a child, or a grown man, except in the gold mines, which are confined to particular sections, "with an ordinary wash basin, wash the sands from the rivulets, and make at least three dollars a day." Judge Kelly, after all, when he tries to do his prettiest, is a very unreliable man.

"Notwithstanding the admirable order of the commandant of the district, forbidding the use of deadly weapons, it is totally disregarded by the negroes, while a disposition is apparent among the white people to abide by the terms of the order. The conduct of the negroes, in this respect, is, however, attributable to the loyal agitators of lesser light, who, in imitation of the great lights of philanthropy at the North, are canvassing the country, for the instruction of the negroes in their exercise of the elective franchise. In one or two instances we have heard of these itinerant and political vagabonds, advising the negroes to go armed constantly, and at public gatherings to go prepared for any emergency. We call the attention of General Sickles to these facts, as tending in the greatest degree to involve a peaceable people in trouble and difficulties."

The above extract is from a judicious article in the last Wilson Carolinian, in relation to the bad influences which are being exerted over our colored population by bad advisers. The purposes of Gen. Sickles to maintain quiet, are likely to be thwarted by the very prevalent disposition which exists in certain localities, where the colored population are most accessible to violent and incendiary persons, to pay little or no regard to his order. The whites, as a general rule, are disposed to listen to the orders of the Commanding General, but in many instances colored people seem to suppose that these orders are not intended for them. They are actually advised, we hear, to disobey them with the assurance of impunity and protection. We are glad, however, to say that, in this community, the vigilance of the police prevents any open violation of order. If there be among any, either white or black, a spirit of insubordination, we have not seen it. For some time, however, a different spirit has pervaded some of the eastern counties.

MAXIMILIAN.

The address of this unfortunate ex-Emperor, which was furnished us by telegram on yesterday, stamps him as a man of noble impulses, and is calculated to intensify the popular sympathy already felt for him, in the hour of his disaster, humiliation and danger, and to excite a profound abhorrence of the treachery and duplicity of Napoleon.

Such baseness as that which has marked the conduct of the Emperor of the French, to the shame of humanity be it spoken, is not without a parallel. The course of those in the South, who sought for years to bring on strife between the sections, and who educated the people to believe in secession, but who abandoned those whom they had deluded, in the very hour of extremity, constitutes an exact counterpart to the bad faith of Louis Napoleon. The identity between the two will be complete, if he will only urge upon Escobedo the putting to death of the royal victim of his ambition and his perfidy.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Besides the reasons which influenced us to suggest, a few weeks ago, the propriety of calling on Gen. Sickles to dissolve the General Assembly, there were others more potent with us, which we did not then, and do not now, deem it proper to mention.—The change in our opinion, since, originates in the different phases which those private reasons have assumed, and in what appears to be a more general anxiety for a Penitentiary, and the necessity for legislative action in other respects. As matters now stand, the Legislature will certainly meet again on the third Monday in August, and the members thereof will be the best judges of what is necessary to be done.

WE REGRET to learn that the Hon. R. C. Puryear, of Yadkin, was stricken with paralysis, at his residence in that County, on Sunday last, and is not expected to live. The loss of such a man as Col. Puryear, at this time, would be a public calamity.

WE MUST RECONSTRUCT.

The following sober views of the Augusta (Ga.) Daily Press contain much for sober reflection:

"Whatever objection may be urged against the terms of reconstruction, proposed by Congress, those who oppose them fall utterly to show any mode of escape from their operation.

It is urged that every man who votes for a Convention, votes for a negro government. This is not true, because there is not a State in which, if the white vote is judiciously exercised, the white people may not retain control of the government. But if it were not so, and if there were possibility that the adoption of the Military Bill would throw the control of the State, or States, into the hands of the negroes, can voting against Convention avert such a calamity? Can any man doubt that if Convention is defeated under the present law, an amendment will be adopted as soon as Congress meets, disfranchising those who were engaged in the late war, so as to secure a Convention in spite of the white men of the country?

Some, disgusted with what they conceive to be the malicious exactions of Congress, positively declare that they will not register, and wish never to vote again. This policy will inevitably give the control of the State to the negroes and to such white men as seek their support, and we do not suppose there is one man in the State, who is controlled by reason, who will insist upon such an unwise and unpatriotic policy.

This is still our Government. It is our home, and to be the home of our children; and every consideration of duty and policy demand that we use every means to make it peaceful and prosperous. The peace that now exists is but the hollow truce of the sword, and prosperity is almost a total stranger to our people.

There can be no substantial prosperity under military rule. It destroys confidence, paralyzes energy, and prevents labor and capital from seeking our borders."

REGISTRATION IN LOUISIANA.

The New Orleans Crescent states that the registration of the last few days shows a gratifying change in the municipal relations of the whites and blacks on the registry.—It is confident that the whites are now considerably in excess, and says that during the remaining days of registration this preponderance will continue to increase. The Crescent adds:

"There is one good effect, at least, to be anticipated from this aspect of the situation—a decided modification of the tendency of the blacks to consolidate themselves into one organization, with the object of monopolizing the offices and of controlling, under the inspirations of their white leaders and rulers, the future political status of the State and the city.

As long as the registry lists indicated a majority of black voters, the radicals exulted in the prospect of an easy triumph by the aid of these allies; and many of the blacks, wrought upon by the counsels of ambitious and reckless politicians, began to claim nothing less than the establishment of a negro oligarchy. It was, probably, more to this influence than to any political sympathy with a party whose abstract principles the uneducated negroes must be utterly incapable of comprehending, that was owing the remarkable agglomeration of the blacks into one organization. If anything can modify this tendency to agglomeration, it will be the consciousness that, so far from being a source of power and a means of success, it will really be a cause of weakness and an agency of defeat. The organization of a special black party, whatever may be its name or its alliances, necessarily compels the formation of a special white party."

ON DIT.—It is rumored that the Union Register, of Greensboro', is to be removed to this City, in the course of a few weeks, and placed under the editorial control of D. R. Goodloe, Esq. The paper thus transferred will be, it is understood, the organ of the Republican party of the State. Mr. Goodloe is a gentleman of much ability as a writer, and we are quite sure that, if we should ever have occasion to shiver a lance together, it will not be at the expense of journalistic courtesies.

WE WOULD direct the attention of our people to the article, on our first page, pourtraying some of the more recent results of Radical rule in Tennessee. This is the feast to which the people of North Carolina are invited.

WE are pleased to learn that our cotemporaries of the Goldsboro News contemplate a speedy revival of their sprightly Daily.

THE RICHMOND Times has been sold to the proprietors of the Dispatch, of that city, and will be merged with the latter. Mr. Aylett, the retiring editor of the Times, is one of the most accomplished and vigorous writers in the country.

GEN. SICKLES was received, in Wilmington, on his return route to Charleston, by the colored fire-companies—few white persons being present. He failed to gratify the ovationists with a talk.

Proscriptive radicalism in West Virginia, which for two years has oppressed a large proportion of the best citizens of that State, is rapidly on the decline. In a recent general election for county officers, the democrats were victorious in numerous instances and everywhere gained largely, in the face of the fact that the registrars rejected hundreds of democratic voters. Some of the hottest radical counties were "swept as with a broom."

On yesterday (Monday) the National and Congressional Republican Committees were to meet in Philadelphia to devise means for a thorough canvass of the South, that will systematically disseminate Republican principles. They are going to abandon the scaring policy and proceed upon a platform looking to the "development of the industrial resources of the country."

Messrs. Martin & Tannahill sold on yesterday to Mr. C. W. Spicer, a box of coal-cured tobacco, at $175 per hundred pounds. This tobacco was grown in North Carolina, and is as beautiful and bright a specimen as we have ever seen.—Petersburg Express of Saturday.

The Indianapolis Journal says there is a certain old gentleman in that city who now revels in the connubial bliss of a sixth marriage. His last matrimonial adventure is of a late date. He has had the same attendants at each of his weddings, who have stood by him through the six troubles, and seem determined to see him through the seventh, taking a Scriptural view of things.

It is stated that Hon. A. H. Stephens is much more feeble than usual. A letter from him says: "I am very unwell—hardly able to be up."

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

PRINCE EDWARD CO., Va., June 8th., 1867.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I have thought it might not be unwelcome to you to hear from this section of Virginia, and to receive the impressions of one passing through upper North Carolina; so, at a venture, I send these jottings by the wayside.

Leaving Raleigh a bright sunny afternoon, (a great crowd of freedmen and a few freemen being at the Depot, either to witness the departure of your correspondent, or to welcome Chief Justice Chase, more probably the latter,) I reached Greensboro after three hours and a half riding.—The speed we made therefore was very good, almost exhilarating, but the smoke, dust and cinders were an equivalent offset. The cars, too, were well filled, bearing several to attend the Commencement exercises at Chapel Hill, and others to consult concerning the welfare of the road. I certainly hope that they have since devised the wisest plan for the success of this State road, including, among other things, a copious supply of ice-water. It was almost amusing to observe the eagerness with which fresh buckets, or rather buckets of fresh water, were received, and quickly partaken of, before it was "mixed" with the old and warm, in the so-called cooler.

We passed a very handsome train in waiting at Durham's, in the service of the President and suite, and I was gratified to learn the party were highly pleased with the elegance and comfort of the cars, and the spirited rate of travel.

The season having been so unpropitious, the crops were not forward, and as the road passes through some rather indifferent land, that crop which the passer saw was hardly a fair indication of the prospects of that country. The wheat crop is very promising, and some of it ripening for harvest. The only fear is that the wet, late Spring may produce rust, which has appeared on the blade in some few places.

Tarrying in Greensboro' only at night, I am unable to give you any pencillings of the place. Cutting short a delicious morning nap, we took the Piedmont train. This road passes through an elevated rolling country, and affords, therefore, a better view of North Carolina. The farms seen are well tilled, and adapted to the growth of tobacco especially, as well as wheat and other cereals. We reached Danville in less than three hours. I could not help contrasting the time and comfortable way of travelling with my last trip over the same road, on my last furlough; for it then occupied twelve hours to go from Danville to Greensboro'. The road is in the care of the Richmond and Danville Railroad, and now forms a part of it, having the same guage and cars. The travelling is not as fast as on the North Carolina Central, but the cars are far more comfortable.

The famous Dan river lands attracted my attention. The corn in some places seemed struggling with the grass for supremacy, but generally the farms showed skilful and careful tillage. Leaving Danville, I only got a Railroad glimpse of the city. The road, after breaking through some rugged hills, is in sight of the river and the magnificent bottoms for some distance. An immense amount of produce must be taken to market by means of this outlet, from the farms along the line on the Staunton, Little Roanoke and Bannister. There seems to be full ten days difference in season between the wheat and other crops here and in Central North Carolina.

The people seem generally disposed to be industrious, to deprecate political troubles, to conform themselves to changed circumstances, and earnestly endeavor to retrieve fallen fortunes. The scars of battle are vanishing. Only here and there a red seam of earthworks shows that there has been war. But more at some other time.

L.

From the New York Tribune

MILITARY GOVERNMENT IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Military government in South Carolina signifies much more than the enforcement of law and the practical appliention of the reconstruction acts. As interpreted by General Sickles, it means all this, with additions sufficient to convey a full idea of despotic rule. "Paternal government" it might have been called in days when absolutism was more popular; for the acting head not only undertakes to protect life and property, and to provide the preliminaries of restoration, but of his own sovereign will and pleasure annuls and enacts regulations and penalties, absorbs the duties of municipal government, and even essays to control the morals and appetites of the fortunate people under his care.

Only the impoverished, depressed, and disheartened condition of South Carolina can afford an explanation of the remarkable patience of the people under some of the orders which they have been required to obey. In other circumstances the order issued on the 11th of April, staying civil processes in certain cases, and interfering with penalties imposed by the laws of the State, irrespective of color, would have provoked a reasonable outcry. The same may be said of subsequent orders, less sweeping in their scope, perhaps, but interfering equally with civil matters, in no direct manner entering into the sphere of a district commander's duties.

Now we hear of regulations promulgated by a general order under date of May 30, which carry military interference to a point beyond any reached elsewhere. They are regulations which cover ground properly belonging to the local municipal organizations, and in no sense, that we can perceive, comprehended within the range of the General's duties. Among other matters they forbid the granting of licenses to any but inn-keepers for the sale of liquors in quantities less than one gallon; and they declare void "all contracts hereafter made for the manufacture, sale, or transportation, storage or insurance of intoxicating liquors." "No civil action," declares the order, "suit, or proceeding for the enforcement of any such contract shall be entertained in any court." The order forbidding the distillation of grain, although arbitrary, was apparently excused by the scarcity of food. But what can justify or palliate the meddling with an important branch of business in a manner which the rampant prohibitionists of New England dare hardly attempt? In the same inexcusably harsh spirit, General Sickles decrees that the proprietors of railroads, horse-cars, and steamboats shall not establish any discrimination on account of color or caste, on pain of being arrested for misdemeanor, and summarily tried by a military tribunal. We cannot but consider this an excess of authority. The loyal officials of New Orleans, where this very question has been raised, have taken a much more prudent course, and one more likely to produce harmony among the citizens.

The Radicals have no little to say about the moral education of the negro race.—What kind of a moral education is that which teaches the negroes to perpetrate frauds upon the ballot-box? No honest Radical will deny that the greatest frauds were committed in the registration and on election day. They were conceived and engineered by men who claim to have the good of the colored people at heart; but they had no hesitation in inducing the colored man to mark his secession to suffrage by as gross frauds as ever disgraced an election in this country.—National Intelligencer.

A REBEL HORSE!—We learn from a friend privy to the fact, who is a gentleman of unquestioned veracity, that Dr. Lee, of Halifax, Va. has a horse which exhibits the greatest and most astonishing aversion to blue colors. This horse served in the Army, and seems to have acquired his distaste for this color while in military service, as he showed no such disposition anterior to the war. He will not allow any one to approach him in a blue coat or jacket—gets frantic, and wants to tear it off. On one occasion, while crossing a ferry, a negro with a blue jacket on happened to get near him, and he jumped at him with tiger like ferocity, and, seizing the garment in his teeth, tore it clean off. It is no less remarkable, that he is as gentle as a lamb if you approach him in gray or any other color than blue.

A horse with such unharmonizing principles and unreconstructed proclivities, is a disloyal horse, and deserves to be disfranchised; but don't confiscate the brute's oats! —Danville (Va.) Times.

Ex Gov. Thomas H. Watts, of Alabama, for a time Attorney General for the Confederate States, was lately so offended at Judge Busteed's rudeness, that he declared he would never again practice before him. Busteed thereupon wrote him a note, saying he couldn't allow that, and that he issued his "mandate" requiring him to revoke such intention if it existed. "The fact is," said the Judge, "I cannot spare you. Your usually genial manners, and your professional learning, make your companionship very desirable; and although you and I differ as to how lawyers and judges shall respectively conduct themselves in court, this need not provoke personal unkindness, and on my part shall not." Mr. Watts couldn't resist this and came back, writing the Judge a note of acknowledgement, but telling him at the close that his manners were anything but agreeable to members of the Bar.

It will be three years next month since Maximilian and Charlotta entered the Mexican capital as Emperor and Empress, with a degree of pomp and circumstance never before in modern times witnessed in Mexico. It has been a wretched three years for them both.

A Boston gentleman offers to pay Wilson's expenses to Europe. The World says he is a true patriot.

Indiana is governed to a large extent by mob law, under the Judge Lynch system.—Sixteen cases have been recorded where, within the past two months, the citizens have, by taking the law into their own hands, secured the punishment of offenders. Congress should by all means guarantee to Indiana a Republican form of government, even if necessary to reduce the State to a territory.

When the French army left Mexico, Maximilian said: "They are placing me between dishonor and death—my selection is made."

ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS.
OPEN JUNE 1.
This favorite and delightful watering-place, having undergone thorough renovation, is prepared to receive visitors. The owners have made every effort in the outfit and equipment to render the place more than ever attractive to those in quest of recreation, while to the invalid its medicinal waters hold out new hopes of health. It may be confidently claimed for them that they have in a great many cases relieved, and in many more cases cured, the following diseases: SCROFULA, and many chronic CUTANEOUS diseases; CHRONIC CATARRH, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, DROPSY, AFFECTIONS of KIDNEY and BLADDER, and PILES; and, in connection with the Hot Baths, CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.
As an appetizer, a tonic, and general restorative to an enfeebled constitution, it is perhaps unrivalled amongst mineral waters. The proprietors have engaged for the approaching season
A VERY SUPERIOR BAND OF MUSIC,
both for the LAWN and the BALL-ROOM.
THE BILLIARD AND BOWLING SALOONS, both for ladies and gentlemen, will be found in more complete order than ever before.
From the very extensive preparations now making at all the leading Virginia Springs, a heavy travel is anticipated, and, we think, will be attracted. It shall be the aim of the undersigned to keep their establishment FULLY UP TO THE FOREMOST; and they hope to see a renewal of the social re-unions which in former years lent such a charm to these mountain retreats.
Passengers by the Virginia Central railroad get off the cars at GOSHEN Depot. Eight (8) miles of staging over a smooth road lands them at the Springs.

CIRCUIT COURT.—In this tribunal, on Monday evening, the jury empanelled in the case of De Rossett vs Dunn returned a verdict of $500 damages for the plaintiff.—The case was ably argued on both sides.

The case of the United States vs. Leander Todd, from Yadkin, indicted for robbing the mail, which was set for trial on yesterday, has been postponed until to-day. Hon. Thos. Bragg appears for the defendant.

Several colored men, we learn, are on the venire, and will probably be sworn in as jurymen during the sitting of the Court.

So far as we have been able to learn, Chief Justice Chase has made a favorable impression upon the bar by his fairness and urbanity.

A QUARREL.—Mr. Foster, the Collector of the Customs at Wilmington, and a Mr. R. P. Barry, are in a muss. Barry thinks Foster unfit for his position, and Foster brands Barry as no gentleman and a "Yankee of whom all other Yankees ought to be ashamed." If so, it must be a bad case.

"NORTH CAROLINIAN" has been received and shall appear.

GENERAL ORDER No. 32.—As yet that portion of this order in reference to the sale of spirituous liquors has not been enforced in this City. We learn that, before forcing its execution, a construction is desured from the District Commander, as to one or two points which have arisen.—Where, for instance, an individual, upon the payment of the required tax, has obtained from the United States government, a license to carry on the business,—does the order of Gen. Sickles vitiate the license?

ADDRESS OF THE CHIEF JUSTICE.—The address of Chief Justice Chase at the opening of the Circuit Court of North Carolina contains several important explanations and a very significant interpretation of the military bills. The Chief Justice states that the Justices declined holding circuit courts in the South because it was regarded as "improper and unbecoming" for the highest officers of the judicial department to exercise their functions under the permit of the sword. He also explains why no circuit courts were held after the military domination was abrogated by the proclamation of August last. If the military bills restored that domination, as claimed by the official conduct of several of the department commanders, the Chief Justice would be in a somewhat awkward predicament. We find him, therefore, saying that military authority is not now exercised "in supervision or control of all the tribunals, whether State or national. It is now used under the acts of Congress, and only to prevent acts of illegal violence to persons and property." Manifestly, the Chief Justice does not regard it as within the province of the department commanders to depose Governors and Judges, set aside laws, and convert every petty subordinate into an autocrat.—National Intelligencer.

The Springfield Republican, speaking of the recent letter of Thaddeus Stevens, says:

"We know now exactly what Thad. Stevens means by a "mild confiscation." He wants enough to pay for the damage done to his iron works and the hay and fencing stuff used up by the rebels in Pennsylvania. Congress for two sessions has been "indifferent to these sufferings," and the irascible Pennsylvanian has been chafing and fretting all the while, but never before disclosed the deep secret of his grief. Let Mr. Stevens make out his bill for damages, and something shall be done about it."

The Richmond (Ind.) Telegraph tells of a Wayne county man who took his family to the circus last Monday, and sold his cooking stove to get money to buy tickets.

The cotton crop of the present year begins to attract a great deal of attention. A Georgia correspondent of a New York paper predicts a large crop of cotton in Georgia, and says the yield of that State may reach 500,000, bales which is more than double the crop of last year. A Louisiana correspondent of the Journal of Commerce says the cotton in that State looks healthy, but it is two weeks later than usual, and he can give no estimate of the crop. All the letter-writers mention that a large crop of corn has been planted, much larger than last year.

A blind man had been sitting one day and pleasantly chatting with some visitors for an hour, when one of them wished the company good morning, and left the room. "What white teeth that lady has!" said the sarcastic blind man. "How do you possibly tell that?" said a friend. "Because," was the ready answer, "for the last half hour she has done nothing but laugh."

The Board of Registrars for the first District of New Orleans have decided that a man born in California or Texas, before these State became annexed to the United States, is a foreigner, and must take out naturalization papers before he can be considered a citizen of the United States.

The "Dominion of Canada" may be regarded as having begun its existence. The Queen's proclamation was made on May 23d, declaring that Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick were united as this dominion, and nominating the Senators who are to be summoned as the "Senate of Canada."

MR. DAVIS.—The gratifying announcement is made that the English papers, with scarcely an exception, approve of the liberation of Mr. Davis, considering it a measure at least of good policy.

A Georgia paper says that as the result of the recent Radical mission to the South, the confidence of the people is destroyed, immigration to Brazil and Venezuela increases, bonds, stocks, and real estate go down, trust is stagnant, money scarce and high, northern credits are cut off, and southern merchants fail to meet their obligations. In Atlanta, store rents have fallen more than one-half, and northern capitalists refuse to make investments.

THE EMPRESS CHARLOTTE.—The Archduchess Charlotte—still styled the "Empress of Mexico"—is still suffering from a sad alienation of mind, according to the latest European accounts.

THE CZAR.—The Pole who shot at the Czar and killed a horse very humanely desired to relieve the world of the Czar and the Czar of "remorse." This obliging humanity is not appreciated by the Czar. Louis Napoleon will feel a little ticklish riding with him hereafter. The French Emperor is imperilled quite enough by infernal machines of his own subjects without getting in the way of the shots intended for the Czar.

The Emperor of Austria was crowned King of Hungary on Saturday—an event which it was understood he would signalize by a general amnesty, including even Kossuth.

The Sultan of Turkey is making rather startling preparations for his July visit to Paris. His stitte is announced as consisting of five hundred persons—three hundred women and fifteen eunuchs, &c., &c. Whether those ladies and gentlemen—we mean houris and eunuchs—will be lodged in the Tuileries along with the Grand Turk himself, we have not yet learned from the Moniteur. We may be sure that he and his suite will create a greater sensation in Paris than all the Emperors in Christendom.—New York Herald, 8th.

The Wytheville Dispatch says a man in Wythe gave his consent for his daughter to marry a Red String for the consideration that he (the Red String) would save his property from being confiscated!

The effort to raise a hue and cry about the release of Jefferson Davis has been more unsuccessful than any attempted excitement. The editorial spasmodics of certain apparantly infuriated gentlemen have fallen dead upon the public ear. The injustice of keeping the Confederate chief in prison so long without trial deadens the public mind to the appeals that at an earlier day might have inflamed it to madness.—National Intelligencer.

Amongst the Americans who have crossed the channel to visit Epsom Downs is General John C. Breckinridge, who has accepted an invitation from friends in London.

Congressman John Morrissey is the purchaser of Barnum's beautiful residence at Bridgeport, Conn. The price paid was $65,000.

The President is not very well.

At a Cabinet meeting, to-day, it is stated that only Stanton will sustain the District Commanders in their illegal assumptions of power.

It is supposed that Stanberry's views involving restraints upon the District Commanders, will be discussed in Cabinet to-day.

TROUBLE IN THE REPUBLICAN RANKS—REGISTRATION.

RICHMOND, June 11.

Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, and several other gentlemen from that State, New York and Pennsylvania, arrived here this evening. They met several prominent Virginians in the Governor's mansion to-night, in conference as to how the two wings of the Republican party—that represented by the late Richmond Convention, and that which proposes to hold another Convention in Charlottesville—may be reconciled.

There were about fifty gentlemen present. The prospect of the State election, the strength of the Republican party, &c., were under discussion. Jno. M. Botts, Mr. Hunnicutt, Judge Underwood, and others, took part in the discussions. About a dozen colored persons were present.

Gen. Schofield has issued a circular to all the Presidents of the Boards of Registration, urging them to finish their work by the end of July.

Horace W. Hovey, a school teacher of freedmen, has been convicted of whipping a child not belonging to his school, and sentenced to $100 fine and five months imprisonment. Gen. Schofield remitted the fine and the Governor pardoned him from imprisonment.

All the members attended a prolonged session of the Cabinet to-day.

The following is an extract from the New York Tribune of this morning:

"Let Sheridan or Sickles, for instance, be removed, and a Summer session of Congress will be inevitable. With a Summer session the President's functions will most assuredly be so limited that it will not be in his power, ever after, to remove any General commanding."

MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychometrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. THE SENTINEL.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 12, 1867.

GOING TO SCHOOL.

He helped her over the meadow brook,
While her feet she timidly set
(Twin lilies they were) on the mossy stone,
With the cooing ripples wet.

They passed the brook and it seemed to sing
With a sweeter, merrier sound,
As the two with their school-books wandered on
Over the clover-laden ground.

O little maiden! how fair you were,
With your eyes of heaven-y blue;
And the dimples played on your cheeks, as play
On a rose the drops of dew.

As play on a rose the drops of dew
When the breezes merrily blow!
And your lips they were the tints of the ripening peach,
In the morning's ruddy glow.

Bare feet, how they twinkled among the grass;
Did you know whenever you took
The path for school, that he waited for you
By the willow-shaded brook?

Since then, the fragrant blossoms have come
To the boughs, ah! many a time;
And a bridge is over the brook, that sings,
As of old, its pleasant rhyme.

And two are straying upon the bank,
As I pen these wandering words,
And they talk of the happy school-day time,
And they watch the building birds.

But a stream there is with a grander flow,
With a sterner, sadder song,
And lovers will cross to a different school,
And help each other along!

THE KIND-HEARTED TANNER.

The following incident is so beautiful and touching, that it should be read to every household in the country. It developes the true, active principle of kindness. How many an erring mortal, making his first step in crime, might be redeemed by the exercise of this sublime trait in the character of the kind-hearted Quaker:

William Savery, an eminent minister among the Quakers, was a tanner by trade. One night a quantity of hides were stolen from his tannery, and he had reason to believe that the thief was a quarrelsome, drunken neighbor, called John Smith. Next week the following advertisement appeared in the country newspaper:

"Whoever stole a quantity of hides on the fifth of this month, is hereby informed that the owner has a sincere wish to be his friend. If poverty tempted him to this false step, the owner will keep the whole transaction secret, and will gladly put him in the way of obtaining money by means more likely to bring him peace of mind."

This singular advertisement attracted considerable attention; but the culprit alone knew who had made the kind offer. When he read it his heart melted within him, and he was filled with sorrow for what he had done. A few nights afterwards, as the tanner's family were about retiring to rest, they heard a timid knock, and when the door was opened there stood John Smith, with a load of hides on his shoulder.—Without looking up, he said: "I have brought these back, Mr. Savery, where shall I put them?"

"Wait till I can get a lantern, and I will go to the barn with thee," he replied, "then perhaps, thou wilt come in, and tell me how this happened. We will see what can be done for thee."

As soon as they were gone out, his wife prepared some hot coffee, and placed pies and meat on the table. When they returned from the barn, she said: "Neighbor Smith, I thought some good hot supper would be good for thee."

He turned his back towards her, and did not speak. After leaning against the fire-place in silence a few moments, he said in a choked voice:

"It is the first time I ever stole anything, and I have felt very bad about it. I am sure I didn't once think that I should ever come to what I am. But I took to drinking, and then to quarrelling. Since I began to go down hill everybody gives me a kick. You are the first man that have ever offered me a helping hand. My wife is sickly and my children starving. You have sent them many a meal, God bless you! but yet I stole the hides. But I tell you the truth when I say it is the first time I was ever a thief."

"Let it be the last, my friend," replied William Savery. "The secret lies between ourselves! Thou art still young, and it is in thy power to make up for lost time.—Promise me that thou wilt not drink any intoxicating liquor for a year, and I will employ thee to-morrow on good wages. The little boy can pick up stones. But eat a bit now, and drink some hot coffee; perhaps it will prevent thee from craving anything stronger to-night. Doubtless thou wilt find it hard to abstain at first; but keep up a brave heart for the sake of thy wife and children, and it will soon become easy. When thou hast need of coffee, tell Mary, and she will give it thee."

The poor fellow tried to eat and drink, but the food seemed to choke him. After vainly trying to compose his feelings, he bowed his head on the table and wept like a child. After awhile he ate and drank, and his host parted with him for the night with the friendly words, "Try to do well, John, and thou wilt always find a friend in me." John entered into his employ the next day, and remained with him many years, a sober, honest and steady man. The secret of the theft was kept between them; but after John's death William Savery sometimes told the story to prove that evil might be overcome with good.

A pretty girl says:—"If our Maker thought it wrong for Adam to live single, when there was not a woman on earth, how criminally guilty are old bachelors, with the world full of pretty girls."

A lazy fellow, lying down on the grass, said, "Oh, how I do wish that this was called work, and well paid for!"

A captain of a vessel, who professed himself a Quaker, being insulted by one of his crew said: "Friend, I will not strike thee, nor kick thee; but (holding a handspike over his head) I will let this billet of wood fall on thee," and he let the handspike fall on his head, which knocked him in the scupper. "Now, friend, if thou art content, go unto thy duty; peradventure the billet falleth again."

The Milwaukee papers record a sad story about a bloated and drunken vagrant who was placed in the station-house the other night, where he was recognized as a once noted divine who, years before, had, under the guise of religion, seduced the wife of one of his parishoners, and whose downfall from that time had been certain and speedy.

Quills are things that are sometimes taken from the pinions of one goose to spread the opinions of another.

Never trouble trouble till trouble troubles you, for trouble rarely troubles people who never trouble themselves about trouble.

A conscript, being told that it was a sweet thing to die for his country, tried to excuse himself on the ground that he never liked sweet things.

We rather think that the most reluctant slave to vice that we ever saw was a poor fellow who had his fingers caught in one.

All persons appointed to office will be required to take the oath prescribed by the act aforesaid and to file the same duly subscribed and sworn with the Post Commander.

2. All citizens assessed for taxes, and who shall have paid taxes for the current year, are qualified to serve as jurors. It shall be the duty of the proper civil officers, charged with providing lists of jurors, to proceed within their several jurisdictions, without delay, and ascertain the names of all qualified persons, and place them on the jury lists, and from such revised lists all jurors shall be hereafter summoned, and drawn in the manner required by law.

3. All citizens are eligible to follow any licensed calling, employment or avocation, subject to such impartial regulations as may be prescribed by municipal or other competent authority, not inconsistent with common rights and the Constitution and laws of the United States. The bond required as security shall not exceed the penal sum of one hundred dollars. One or more sureties being citizens and worth, in the aggregate, double the amount of the bond, over and above just debts, will be sufficient.

4. The Mayors of cities and other municipal and town officers, and all Sheriffs, Magistrates and Police officers, are required to be vigilant and efficient in maintaining order, and in the discharge of their duties. They will be expected to co-operate with the military authorities.

5. Post commanders may summon to their aid, whenever the ordinary means at their disposal shall not be sufficient to execute their orders, such of the civil officers, and as many of the citizens, within the territorial limits of the military post, as may be necessary, and the neglect or refusal of any person to aid and assist in the execution of the orders of the Commanding officer will be deemed a misdemeanor, punishable by such fine and imprisonment as may be imposed by a military tribunal approved by the Commanding General.

6. No license for the sale of intoxicating liquors in quantities less than one gallon or to be drank on the premises shall be granted to any person other than an Inn-keeper. The number of such licenses shall be determined, and the fees to be charged for each license shall be prescribed and collected, by the municipal or town authorities and appropriated exclusively for the benefit of the poor. If any person shall be found drunk on the premises where liquor is sold, the license may be revoked by any magistrate. The tax imposed by the Internal Revenue laws of the United States is an additional charge and does not excuse the person from the observance of local regulations, nor exempt him from the payment of such other license fees as may be imposed by the municipal or other competent authorities.

7. All contracts hereafter made for the manufacture, sale or transportation, storage or insurance of intoxicating liquors shall within this military district be deemed and treated as against public policy, and no civil action, suit or proceedings for the enforcement of any such contract shall be entertained in any court.

8 In public conveyances on railroads, highways, streets or navigable waters, no discrimination because of color or caste shall be made, and the common rights of all citizens therein shall be recognized and respected. The violation of this regulation will be deemed a misdemeanor and render the offender liable to arrest and trial by a Military tribunal to be designated by the commanding General, besides such damages as the injured party may sue for and recover in the civil Courts.

9. The remedy by distress for rent is abolished. Where lands are leased, or let out for hire or rent, cotton, corn or other produce of the same, when severed from the land, may be impounded, but the same shall not be removed. Any cotton, corn or other produce so impounded shall be held as security for the rent or hire so claimed and may be sold in satisfaction of any judgment for the same, Provided, that any unsatisfied claim for labor bestowed upon the cultivation of such cotton, corn, or other produce, shall, in no case, be postponed to any demand for rent or hire. But to the extent of such claim for labor there shall be a lien on such cotton, corn and other produce having preference over any claim for rent or hire.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 24, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowlege and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof: that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provid. for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers, and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."

NEW SPRING GOODS,

embracing all articles usually kept in wholesale establishments. Their long business experience with the merchants of

Virginia and North Carolina,

READY-MADE CLOTHING,

manufactured expressly to their own order, which for style, workmanship and cheapness cannot be surpassed. They would also call attention to a full line of

All of which will be offered to purchasers on the very best terms, by Capt. Edward Graham and Mr. John McNeece, who have charge of the department.
